

Directions: Insert your picture. Below your selfie book picture, you will write about your book using five or more sentences. Try to sell the book to us so that we want to read it. Why is this an exciting book? Why should we read this book? You can include some information about the genre, plot, and the main character in your advertisement. Don't give away the ending though! Leave us with a cliffhanger. Be sure to check your spelling, capitalization, and punctuation. After you write your paragraph and attach your picture, you can email the assignment to me at teresasippel@easternchristian.org. This assignment will be due on Friday, August 30th. Below is an example of this assignment.

Restart is a fascinating story about how amnesia changed a boy's life. Chase, the main character, wakes up after falling off of a roof. He can not remember how he acted and who he was before the fall, but having someone dump yogurt on his head makes him begin to wonder. This story explores what happens when you have the opportunity to become a different person. You will want to discover what choices Chase decides to make in his "new" life. It will remind you that the choices of how you treat people do make a difference.
